DEATH RECORD.

HETTIE J. FINDLEY, familiarly known as "Aunt Hettie" died Saturday morning, February 13, 1904, of bowels trouble, aged 68 years and 15 days.

She was a daughter of Hugh A. and Rebecca C. Findley, both deceased, and was of a family of thirteen children, six boys and seven girls, all of whom have preceded her to the grave except James H., of this place, and George, of Cortland. She was born January 29, 1836, on the home farm, about two miles east of town, where she died and where she made her home for many years with her brother, Wm. Findley, and after his death with his widow, Mrs. Sarah Findley, and family. The funeral services largely attended, were held at the M. E. church in Brownstown, Monday afternoon, February 15th, at 2 o'clock, Rev. T. W. Northcott officiating after which the remains were laid to rest in Fairview cemetery. Deceased was well known and had many friends. She was of a quiet, kind and pleasing disposition, and as the pastor said, "Her religious life was exemplary, not emotional, but of even tenor. Her faith in God was abiding, and she only waited the time of her release."
