He was driving north on the Freeman Field Road and, was unable to stop as he entered U. S. 50 and his car went into a skid and sheered off a Public Service Indiana utility pole.

Power was cut off to industries at Freeman Field and customers on the south of U. S. 50 for several hours.

On March 9, 1938, he was married, in Brownstown, to Bessie L. Cockerham, who died on October 24, 1960.

Three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Charles M. (Janet) Huffman, of Seymour, and Mrs. Ronnie (Nancy) Davidson, of Indianapolis, and Miss Connie Flick, at home.
