Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon at Winklepleck Funeral Home for Herschel Schornick, 67, well-known Brownstown township native and life-long resident.

Mr. Schornick died at the family residence, south of Freetown, at 11 o'clock Thursday night. Although in ill health for two years, his condition was serious only since suffering a heart attack last Tuesday.

The Rev. Don Davidson, pastor of the Freetown Christian Church, conducted the funeral rites and burial was in Fairview Cemetery here.

Born in Brownstown township on February 17, 1888, Mr. Schornick was a son of the late John and Mary Ann Cornett Schornick. He was married in Brownstown on September 25, 1909, to Mabel Braden, who survives.

A farmer all of his life, Mr. Schornick was well known throughout the entire county. He was a member of Freetown Christian Church and active in church work.

Surviving in addition to the widow are a brother, Frank L. Schornick, of Vallonia; several nieces and nephews and two cousins, Albert Heiman, of Anderson and Howard Heiman, R1, Brownstown.

An infant son died in 1922.
