Mrs. Georgia Stafford Dies After Brief Illness, Rites Tuesday

Brownstown residents were shocked and grieved Saturday to learn of the death of Mrs. Georgia Stafford, Medora R1.

Ill only a few days, Mrs. Stafford died at 8:00 o'clock that morning in Robert Long Hospital, Indianapolis.

Born in Brownstown, June 24, 1921, she was a daughter of John M. and Ruth Shelton Robbins, of Brownstown. Mrs. Robbins is chief operator at the Brownstown office of the Indiana Telephone Corporation.

She grew up in Brownstown and was graduated from Brownstown High School. For the past thirteen years she was a member of the office personnel at the Indiana Employment Division Office, in Columbus, and, at the time of her death, was the acting manager.

She was a member of Brownstown Methodist Church and was widely known both in the Brownstown area and Columbus and popular with a wide circle of friends.

She was married on November 26, 1953, to Thomas Stafford, who survives.

Also surviving, in addition to the husband and parents are three sisters, Mrs. Louis Koop, of Seymour, Mrs. Patrick Smith, of Brownstown, and Mrs. Roy Reedy, of Brownstown R1, and a brother, John Charles Robbins, of Brownstown.

Her death is the first in the Robbins family.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon from the Brownstown Methodist Church, in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Max Nicoson, and El Lacy Satterfield, pastor of the Brownstown Christian Church.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery, here.
