Clyde Waldon

Clyde Waldon, 77, of 704 Bloomington Rd. in Brownstown died at 6:24 p.m. Sunday, July 17, at Jackson County Hospital in Seymour after several years of illness.

The Rev. Gary Morning will conduct the funeral at 1:30 p.m. today, Wednesday, July 20, at Spurgeon Funeral Home in Brownstown where persons may call from 8 a.m. to time of the service today. Burial will be at Fairview Cemetery in Brownstown.

Waldon was born July 7, 1906, in Lawrence County to the late Fred and Stella Kinder Waldon. He married Irene Thompson Seibert March 8, 1928, in New Albany, and she survives.

A retired grocer, he was a member of the Brownstown United Methodist Church and a past commander of the American Legion Post at Brownstown. He was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include a son, Albert Seibert of Seymour; two brothers, Merle Waldon and Frederick Waldon, both of Bedford; a sister, Bertha McIver of Bedford; three grandchildren, Joseph Seibert of Seymour, Verney Scott Seibert and Steven Seibert, both of Indianapolis; and two great-grandchildren.

An infant son and a brother preceded him in death.

The family requested that memorials be in the form of donations to the Indiana Diabetes Assn.
