FRANK BRODHECKER EXPIRES THIS MORNING

Following A Long Illness Of Paralysis
— Was Well Known Over The County.

OTHER DEATHS DURING THE WEEK

Frank Brodhecker, aged 67, whose lingering illness has been mentioned from time to time, breathed his last at his home in Brownstown this morning at 6:30 o'clock.

About six years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered. Later he had another stroke, which left him almost helpless, but he was able to get around until about seven months ago since which time he has been confined to the house.

Deceased was a life-long resident of this locality, being born about two miles east of Brownstown. He was a son of Conrad and Anna C. (Heller) Brodhecker, deceased.

When a young man he taught school for four years, and in January, 1879, was appointed deputy county treasurer, in which capacity he served for twelve years, under the terms of H. W. Wacker, Henry Kleinmeyer and Adam Heller, after which he was elected to the office, serving from 1889 to 1893.

A few years after his retirement from public office he engaged in the hardware business for several years, after which he followed clerical work and book-keeping in various capacities.

He was united in marriage to Mary A. Doerr October 10, 1878, to whose union were born six children, three boys and three daughters, three of whom have preceded him to the grave.

He was a faithful member of the Brownstown Presbyterian church and was a regular attendant at the church services as long as he was able to leave home.

He was a man of high integrity, and strictly honest and conscientious in all his dealings. Having served for a continuous period of sixteen years or more in the county treasurer's office, he formed a large circle of friends and acquaintances over the county.

He is survived by his widow, two sons and one daughter, viz: Frank, of Indianapolis; Clyde, of Princeton; and Mrs. Mae Capoot, of Mt. Carmel, Ill.; also by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Oliver, of Crawfordsville, Ind., and one half brother and sister, Andrew J. and Miss Margaret Brodhecker, of Brownstown.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by interment in Fairview cemetery.
