Ex-Resident Is Called by Death

James T. Williams, age eighty-three, former well known Hamilton township farmer, died at his home in East Columbus shortly before noon today. He had been ill throughout the winter with heart disease and complications.

Funeral arrangements have not been learned here but burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Brownstown.

Mr. Williams was an uncle of Miss Jeannette Russell, of Brownstown and a brother-in-law of John Russell, Brownstown justice of peace. He was born on May 23, 1860, in Washington county, but was a farmer in Hamilton township for many years. He moved from the Cortland vicinity to East Columbus for residence about ten years ago.
