Milo Wrighthouse Dies At Hospital— Rites Held Today

Ill the past two weeks, Milo Wrighthouse, well-known Brownstown resident, died at the Jackson county hospital at 12:35 o'clock Monday morning, less than two hours after being rushed there for medical treatment.

Funeral rites were held this afternoon from the Winklepleck Funeral Home, in charge of the Rev. Charles Taylor, pastor of the Sellersburg Methodist Church, and former pastor of the Brownstown Methodist Church.

The Rev. Max Nicolson, current pastor, assisted.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Wrighthouse was born in Henryville, July 20, 1906, the son of Mrs. Lacy Lucas Wrighthouse, and the late Jesse Wrighthouse. He spent his early years in Salem, moving to Brownstown about forty years ago.

A trucker, by occupation, Mr. Wrighthouse established the local terminal for the Indianapolis and Southern Trucking Company. Through his connection with this firm, became widely known, and his friendly manner and jovial disposition won him a legion of friends.

He was married on February 22, 1952, in Elwood, to Mildred Gaiter.

Surviving, with the widow, are three daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Bland and Mrs. Mary Hutton, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Sharon Doty, of Brownstown; two brothers, George Wrighthouse, of Springfield, Illinois, and Gordon Wrighthouse, of Seymour; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Meredith and Mrs. Esther Croenne, both living in Springfield, Illinois, and three grandchildren.

He was a member of the Brownstown Methodist Church.
