Cortland Man Is Crushed By Tree

Donald Lee Bane, 26,
Killed As Tree Falls
On Bulldozer At Farm

A Cortland R1 man was killed Saturday afternoon near Shelbyville when a tree he was pulling down fell into his bulldozer.

Dead is Donald Lee Bane, 26, a partner in a heavy-equipment company which was clearing trees at the Maurice Leap farm about nine miles south of Shelbyville. Mr. Bane was pulling down the tree when he was crushed in the bulldozer.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the Winklepleck Funeral Home, Brownstown, with the Rev. East Carmichael, pastor of the Freetown Evangelical United Brethren Church, officiating. Burial in Fairview Cemetery, Brownstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

A longtime resident of Jackson county, Mr. Bane was born Aug. 22, 1932, in Washington county, the son of Joe and Adra Buttoff Bane, who survive. He was married March 1, 1951, in Seymour to the former Myrtle Ann Zike, who survives.

Mr. Bane became a partner in a heavy equipment company following his discharge from the U.S. Air Force. A wide circle of friends mourns his death.

Surviving in addition to his parents and widow are four children, Deborah Ann, Richard Dean, Randy Joe and Michael Dave, all at home, and three brothers, Emmett Bane, Brownstown, Ivan Bane, Freetown R1, and Lawrence C. Bane, Columbus.
