Cribb.

After weeks and months of pain and suffering upon the sick bed, the spirit of Jessie Cribb, wife of R. H. Cribb, took its flight Tuesday morning, May 11th, 1897, at 5 o'clock. She was a victim of that dread disease, consumption, but bore her suffering patiently and with christian fortitude until her Master summoned her home to a haven of rest. Although expected for some time, yet the announcement of her death did not come without a shock to her many friends.

She was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, June 16th, 1862, but came to Brownstown with her parents when a mere child. She was united in marriage to R. H. Cribb May 17th, 1885, to whom were born two children, a son and daughter—Max and Mary—who together with their father survive her. She was a member of the M. E. Church, and that she lived an earnest and christian life is needless for us to state.

Her kind, gentle and sociable manners won for her the esteem, love and respect of all. She was a true wife and helpmate of the now grief-stricken husband, and a model loving mother to her children, and was more concerned about their future than her own dissolution, which she had realized for some time was near. She had so lived that she feared not to die.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. Church this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. N. Thompson, assisted by Eld. G. M. Shutts officiating, after which she was tenderly laid to rest in Fairview cemetery, according to the beautiful and impressive ceremonies of the Pythian Sisters, of which order she was a charter member.

The heartfelt sympathy of our citizens is extended to the sorrowing relatives in this their saddest hour—the loss of wife and mother.
