James Jackson Is Found Dead At Brownstown

James Jackson, 70, of Brownstown, a native and lifelong resident of Jackson County, was found dead at his home Monday by his son.

Keith Burkholder, Jackson County deputy coroner, said Mr. Jackson had died early Sunday night as a result of a stroke.

An employe of the Jackson Brick and Hollow Ware Company at Brownstown for 43 years before his retirement, he was born March 11, 1898, to the late Oliver and Lina Ward Jackson. He was married first to Elizabeth Boofer and then to Genevieve Kirkpatrick, who survives.

Other survivors include nine children, Mrs. Edith Jean Schlund, Dallas, Tex., Oliver Jackson, Norfolk, Va., James Jackson, Jr., Seymour, Lowell Thomas Jackson, Tacoma, Wash., Louis Jackson, Brownstown, Mrs. Patricia Roberts, Indianapolis, and Howard, Frank and Billy Dean Jackson, all of Brownstown; four stepchildren, James Wibel, Marysville, Mrs. Delores Rayner, New Albany, Mrs. Joan Briggs, Fort Wayne, and George Wibel, Hobart; and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Stewart, Seymour, four grandchildren and 14 step-grandchildren.

A son, Joe, one brother and one sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday from the Winklepleck-Weesner Funeral home with the Rev. Ernest Anderson, pastor of the Brownstown Baptist Church, officiating. Burial in Fairview Cemetery, Brownstown.

Friends may call at the Winklepleck-Weesner Funeral Home, Brownstown, after 7 o'clock tonight.
