In Memoriam.

Miss Lucinda M. E. Klewitz died on Wednesday, November 15, 1882, aged 22 years, 8 months and 20 days. Thus it is our painful duty to record the death of one who will be sorely missed by her kind relatives and an extended circle of warm friends. In her death we recognize the loss of a faithful, true and worthy friend, a highly esteemed lady, and an ornament to society, whose equal is seldom found. Her suffering was intense for forty days, when death relieved her. She was a member of the Lutheran Church. On the 17th the remains were conveyed from the residence of her parents to the Methodist Church at Brownstown, where Rev. Schultz preached an appropriate sermon from the text, "O, death, where is thy sting? O, grave, where is thy victory?" I Cor. xv, 55. After the last lingering look from tear-bedimmed eyes was taken, her body was conveyed to the new cemetery at Brownstown and laid in its final resting place.

Her friends extend their kindest wishes and most tender sympathies to the much bereaved parents and sisters.
