DIED,

On last Saturday morning, at 2 o'clock, the grim monster, death, called from this world Mrs. Mary J. Smith, wife of the late lamented Rev. Giles Smith.

Mrs. Smith had been in declining health for some time, but was able to go about until about three weeks ago, when she received a stroke of paralysis. At first her suffering was intense, but toward the close of her useful life, she grew more restful and passed the grim portals in perfect peace. Hers was a long and noble life, being born in Woodbury, New Jersey, November 10, 1808. She was married to the Rev. Giles C. Smith at Richmond, Indiana, April 10, 1842, she went with him and assisted him in his duties as a Methodist minister until his death, April 12, 1870. She leaves behind two children, Dr. Hamlin Smith, of this place, and Mrs. Curtis, wife of the Rev. Dr. Curtis, of Greencastle. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. W. Cooper, who delivered an appropriate and impressive sermon from 1st Corinthians, 5th chapter and 1st verse.

The remains were then conducted to the new cemetery and carefully laid to rest, there to await the call of her Blessed Master. The bereaved relatives and friends have the consoling knowledge that she is not lost, but gone to that "home, not made by hands, eternally in the heavens," there to await their comine.
